

Professional Oversight, Knowledgeable Insight

Specializing in medical and dental group practices for more than two decades, we've been at the forefront of many significant changes in healthcare. We've guided our clients through the complex issues of managed care, government regulation and intervention, and the business of practice management.

// We value partners with a long-term view. We believe having a common set of values and principles determines the probability of success as much as a sound strategy and operational excellence. With Wiss, we had transparent and frank discussions about the candidate and role to ensure we set the candidate up for success.
